

Corona Update Huhtamaki

Dear customer,

The Corona virus continues to keep us firmly under control. Even though some countries have ended the lockdown there is still a long way back to life as we knew it. We go shopping with masks, keep a minimum distance of 1.5 meters in public spaces and socialising is only possible to a limited extent. But how long will this last?

Work life is starting to move towards normal as companies start to bring their employees back from home office into their work spaces. Children are progressively going back to school and more and more shops are opening for business.

Teams all around the world are working tirelessly on potential medication and vaccines to protect us from Covid-19 and we hope we will hear something positive soon.

Hygiene measures

As there is more and more public discussion about easing the Corona measures and gradually re-opening one area after another, we as a company naturally also ask ourselves how we can gradually return to a normal working life. Protecting our employees against possible infection is of utmost importance. We have offered employees to return to work on a voluntary basis until the end of May. We have implemented strict rules for the occupancy of the offices to ensure distancing.

Food on-the-Go

Due to hygiene measures and safety of our employees our canteen will remain closed until further notice in order to avoid large crowds of people. However, in order to ensure the catering of the staff, free sandwiches and cold dishes are distributed to all employees for free.

Innovating for the future

Although these Corona times are difficult we continue to plan ahead for how our world will be post Corona.

Our innovation teams are running multiple workshops across the company to gather innovation ideas for new products that we will need as a society to improve our hygiene standards in the future.

One example of this has been the ability of our Foodservice factories in Northern Ireland to adapt from producing paper cups to producing face shields to support the frontline medical staff during the crisis. Other locations are following this model.

This shows our commitment to stay one step ahead as an innovation leader even in difficult times.

Given how the situation is changing on a daily basis, we are doing our best to ensure we are there for you and we will keep you updated on how we are getting through this crisis together.

If you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact us.

Stay healthy!
